7 January - 13 January 2018

This small group course runs for five days and takes in ten different gardens and three heritage-listed houses where you will step back into the past and experience life as it was two centuries ago.

Hobart grew slowly from its beginnings as a pioneering encampment until Governor Lachlan Macquarie's visit in 1811, which prompted redevelopment of the area which he had deemed "untidy." Socially, the population changed from soldiers, convicts and criminals, to adventurous colonists and free settlers who formed a nascent "landed gentry" driving wealth and development in the area. During this development, Hobart's gardens which had previously provided sustenance were developed into picturesque masterpieces, culminating in the founding of The Royal Tasmanian Botanical Gardens in 1818.

Top 5

1. Enjoy a guided tour of the Royal Botanical Gardens and check out 'The Patch' made famous by the ABC's gardening show.
2. Inspect a native garden which has strong connections to the botanists who sailed up North West Bay.
3. Go further south to Glendevie, to a garden created over the years by descendants of the first settlers and hear their stories.
4. In the Huon Valley see a nursery and garden which is absolutely gorgeous. Listen to the owner as he takes you around the garden,
5. Visit the Female Factory, take a guided tour around the site and learn of the sad history of the inmates.
